

The UML Class diagram is used to set up and visualize object-oriented systems. A class diagram in (UML) is a type of static structure diagram that describes the structure of a system by showing the system's: classes, attributes, operations (or methods), and the relationships among objects.